HALT MEXICAN REBELS AFTER 4 HOUR REVOLT

Juarez Changes Hands Twice In Short Time—Many Are Killed And Hurt

BULLETIN
El Paso, Tex.—Two American citizens of El Paso, were slightly wounded on this side from stray bullets during the fighting occasioned by the revolt of the Garza at Juarez. One was Miss Vicente Cerezo, 22, shot in the shoulder and Luis Ponce, 19, a fruit peddler, whose clothing was torn by a bullet. He was only scratched.

El Paso, Texas.—Juarez Saturday is again controlled by men in sympathy with the administration in Mexico City after being in possession by the rebels for four hours. In this brief period fighting resulted in the killing of ten men and the wounding of twice that number.

General J. J. Mendez, Juarez commander has reorganized his depleted forces and with the aid of river guards, police and private citizens is defying a force of about 200 rebels just outside the city.

SURPRISE GENERAL
At 2 o'clock Saturday morning, the general was surprised when 150 men in his garrison, headed by captain Val Verde, revolted and took charge of the entire city. So astonished was the general that he came to El Paso and telegraphed Chihuahua City for aid, which Saturday was expected momentarily. Then the general slipped back to Juarez and established headquarters at the customs house.

Exhausted lack of the customs house, federal agents have been unable to hold the city. The rebels who defiantly approached, firing wildly. About 250 men were in the rebel force but they were obliged to retire being short of ammunition. The rebels carried a one pounder field piece and fired it half a dozen times. As the rebels withdrew to the south part of the city to reorganize, they were encountered by river guards who attacked them. Few shots were exchanged.

HIT U. S. BUILDING

El Paso, Tex.—Immediately after United States army officials were notified early Saturday that the Mexican garrison in Juarez, across the Rio Grande from here had revolted, preparations were taken to send troop reinforcements to the American side of the international bridge.

Among the prisoners released from the jail were three men who were under life sentence on charge of murder. A dozen American women and men were also set free.

At 8:30 in the morning, persons having business interests were permitted to enter Juarez.

American soldiers were stationed at the bridge to protect hundreds of Juarez citizens crossing to El Paso for safety.

Some of the shots of the early morning battle hit the American Public Health Public Service building.

5,000 SAILORS STRIKE TONIGHT

Eight Hour Day Is Principal Demand Of Great Lakes Seamen

By Associated Press
Chicago — Approximately 5,000 members of the Sailors' union of the Great Lakes have been ordered to strike, effective at midnight Saturday. On account of many vessels now on the lakes the strike probably will not be effective until Oct. 5, according to K. B. Nolan, general secretary of the union.

The men will strike to enforce the three watch system or 8-hour-day with wages a secondary consideration, according to Mr. Nolan. Only freight boats will be affected. The strike was called against vessels of the Lake Carriers' association.

Small independent lines will not be involved. According to Mr. Nolan, 410 bulk freighters carrying iron ore, grain and coal will be affected. He declared not be seriously effected and coal shipments to the northwest would be pressed the opinion that one-third of the vessels would be signed up for three watch system.

"We have arranged that whenever a captain of a vessel agrees to our demand for the three watches or 8-hour day that the men will return to work at once and the strike will be ended as far as such vessels are concerned," Mr. Nolan said.

INTEREST IN ILLINOIS ON LABOR FIGHT

Outcome Of Daugherty Injunction Gets More Attention Than Politics

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright 1922 by Post Pub. Co. Chicago — Illinois is so overwhelmingly Republican that Senator McCombs' reelection is reassured and there is far more interest in the effect of the injunction secured in the federal courts here by the government against the railroad strikers.

Briefly, the injunction is looked upon as epochal. Unless it is a success it should succeed in settling it aside through reversals in the higher courts, the decree is permanent. This means that strikes on public utilities have at one fell swoop been declared taboo without any further legislation. That, however, is just the rub. Many of the critics of the injunction contend that it would be far better for America if such drastic prohibitions are imposed by the injunction were really passed upon by congress. There is naturally a reaction against the injunction in labor circles but it is a fact that the business community as a whole welcomes the step as a start, at any rate, toward the settlement of industrial disputes and argues that even if the injunction should fail to stand the test of the higher judiciary, it will serve as a basis for action by congress or the states.

BUSINESS BEHIND
There is no question but that the Harding administration has been immeasurably strengthened among its own supporters by President Harding's veto of the bonus and the Daugherty injunction. The business men who contribute heavily to the support of the Republican party from year to year have always felt that the Wilson administration catered to labor and that its successor must in a measure do the reverse. It was therefore with considerable disappointment that the proposal of President Harding to restore seniority rights to rail strikers was received. Some business men went so far as to say that the proposal was a surrender "like the Adamson act." Business men became critical of the Administration. But the Daugherty injunction and the veto of the bonus turned the tide.

What Mr. Harding gains, however, among the business men is to some extent offset by the antagonism that has been earned on the labor side. The injunction fight is by no means over. The fight will be carried to the Supreme court of the United States. Attorney General Daugherty told the writer that he welcomed a thorough test of the injunction. The decree is, of course, based upon the famous anti-trust law of 1890 which makes it unlawful to restrain trade.

Superior—Convinced that her missing son, Edward J. Sallstad, was murdered and the cottage occupied by him at Lake Nebagamon set fire to cover up the crime, Mrs. August Sallstad Saturday announced that she would appeal to the state and county authorities to make thorough investigation of the affair so that the guilty persons may be made to answer for their crime.

A jury in federal court Friday returned a verdict holding that Sallstad who has been missing since the night of Aug. 26, 1920, died in the fire at Nebagamon and awarding Mrs. Sallstad-Richardson, his wife, $10,000 the full amount of an insurance policy carried by him with the New York Life Insurance Co. The insurance company contested the payment claiming that satisfactory proof of death had not been furnished.

TOUCHDOWN BY GRIGNON PUTS LOCALS AHEAD

Place Kick By Basing Under New Point System Disallowed By The Officials

A touchdown two minutes before the close of the first half by Grignon gave Lawrence the lead over Stevens Point normal school in the first college football game of the season at Lawrence field here Saturday afternoon. Basing tried for a point under the new rule but his place kick was disallowed because of the Appleton eleven being outside.

Lawrence kicked off in the first quarter and Stevens Point got the ball. The visitors held it for most of the period but failed to make any gains. Lawrence battled lustily and the best Stevens Point could do was to reach the 40-yard line.

With two minutes to go in the second quarter, Grignon went over the line for a touchdown. Basing then tried for his place kick to gain the extra point. Straight line plunges featured the Lawrence playing all the way through.

Followers of the gridiron in the Little Five conference cities focused their eyes on Appleton Saturday with a view of ascertaining the strength this year of the Lawrence college eleven, twice champions of the conference in the last two years.

While the game with Stevens Point normal, scheduled to begin at 1:30 in the afternoon, was not exactly a strong test for the Blue and White, football fans expected to get a fair

CHURCH FREE FROM DEBT IN FIVE YEARS

A thanksgiving jubilee will take place at Trinity English Lutheran church on Sunday to celebrate the fact that the church is now free from debts. The Rev. F. L. Schreck, pastor, under whose pastorate the church has made such splendid progress in the past five years, has secured good speakers and music for the services.

The Rev. John F. Seibert, D. D., central district superintendent of home missions for the United Lutheran church in America, will be the speaker in the morning at 10:30. The Rev. Paul R. Siebert, pastor of the Church of the Reformation in Milwaukee will speak at the evening service. Music will be furnished at both services by a trio composed of Ellsworth Strider, John Phillips and Kenneth Goodrich. Miss Beatrice Kort will be the accompanist.

During the time that Rev. Schreck has been at the church, 244 persons have been received into membership of the church.

BLAINE SETS 10 MORE FREE FROM PRISONS

Denies Freedom To 15 Others —Ex-Yank Among Pardoned

Madison—Executive clemency was extended to 10 applicants for pardon and denied 15 by Governor J. J. Blaine Saturday as a result of hearings held before him Sept. 21.

The story of crime that led to imprisonment and the mitigating circumstances that brought about a pardon were recounted by the governor in statements accompanying his orders directing officers of state institutions to extend clemency to prisoners whose application for pardon were favorably received.

EX-YANK GOES FREE
John May Wood county, serving ten years for assault with attempt to rob, will go free under a conditional pardon as a result of action by the governor. His hearing brought out that he has served overseas, had been wounded and came back to America to find himself without work and without funds. He took an automobile, robbed a bank at Marshfield, and was captured.

Governor Blaine said that this boy is a victim of the late war and his mental and physical condition is such that he should not be abandoned now.

The sentence of Frank Lee, Milwaukee, was commuted from seven to five years, making him eligible to parole next year. He had been in a party which robbed a saloon keeper's home at West Allis. Governor Blaine found that he had served as a coxswain in the navy during the war and stated that although he performed no signal service during the war and this offense cannot be traced to his services his former good conduct and devotion to duty, entitled him to some consideration.

Christ Vick, Dane county, serving 2 years for larceny got a conditional pardon. "Vick stole a pig and away he run—in an automobile," the governor said, adding however, that "the pig did not get loose, but Vick got in the calaboose for two years. He put the pig in his automobile and after driving eight or nine miles butchered it." Governor Blaine pardoned him so that he might support his wife and child.

Killian J. Schwartz, of Milwaukee, had his sentence of seven years commuted so that his is eligible to parole Nov. 7. Schwartz served for four years for burglary.

An absolute pardon was granted Avis Stewart, Milwaukee, serving a term in the Industrial school for girls for incorrigibility.

John Muenier, Milwaukee, serving one year for burglary, was given a conditional pardon in order that he might support his wife and child.

A conditional pardon was also given Walter G. Glynn, Milwaukee, serving four years for burglary. Osa Campbell, Langlade county, serving three years for adultery was given a conditional pardon. Frank Schmidt, Milwaukee, was also conditionally pardoned from serving the remainder of his five year sentence for larceny. Jerome Wojtazewicz, Racine county, serving three years for burglary was granted a conditional pardon.

KAUKAUNA BREWER HAS HIS FINE CUT

Judge Geiger Censors Prohibition Agents In Regentfuss Case Ruling

By Associated Press
Milwaukee—Criticism of the internal revenue bureau practices of levying penalties on violators of the Volstead act was expressed Saturday by Federal Judge F. A. Geiger in reducing a fine imposed June 27 on the Regentfuss Brewing Co., Kaukauna, for selling beer of illegal strength.

"The minute the internal revenue bureau starts to collect a penalty, it embarrasses the prosecution of a liquor case," said Judge Geiger.

The judge reduced the fine imposed by him on the company from $5,800 to $2,000 at the request of Attorney Frank Grogan, Kaukauna, representing the brewery, who informed the court that internal revenue bureau had collected $3,600 from the company. By reducing the fine, the judge made the total amount collected from the company approximately the same as the original fine.

ACCEPT SMITH PLAN TO RULE CITY'S GROWTH

Planning Board Completes Its Study Of New Zoning Ordinances

Appleton common council now has before it for enactment the zoning ordinance, following its unanimous approval by the city planning commission at a joint meeting with the ordinance committee of the council in the office of Mayor Henry Reuter Friday evening.

The ordinance will be presented at the next council meeting and ordered published. Date for a public hearing then will be announced so any possible objections may be heard. The council then will vote on the measure.

This is the first and one of the most important portions of the Appleton city plan to be completed by Leonard S. Smith, city planning engineer, and thus "a first" to be submitted to the council for action. Mr. Smith presented a draft of the proposed zoning ordinance to the planning commission several weeks ago and each member has studied it carefully in the meantime as did members of the ordinance committee.

STUDY EVERY DETAIL
All of Friday evening was spent by the two groups of men in going over every detail of the measure for the last time. Corrections and alterations were made and one or two points discussed at length. F. S. Bradford's motion was carried unanimously that the ordinance as corrected be approved by the city planning commission and that it be submitted to the common council for passage.

Height of buildings on College-ave. was one of the points discussed thoroughly and the commission decided to limit all new structures to 65 feet in height, which will prevent any from being more than five stories. Structures on other streets will be not more than 50 feet, or four stories.

Another point cleared up was that of use of existing buildings or premises and of new buildings when the ordinance becomes effective. The wording was made such that new structures must be used for the purpose specified, otherwise they cannot be built. Present buildings will continue in use as now, but they cannot be used in the future for anything not permitted within that zone.

The ordinance is one of the most comprehensive measures that will be inscribed on the statute books here. It occupies more than 20 typewritten pages. It was made as specific as it

Anniversary

Forty Years Ago Today the First Street Car in United States Began Operating on Appleton Streets.

Saturday, Sept. 30, marked the 40th anniversary of the introduction of commercial electric power in Appleton, the first city west of New York, to adopt it.

On that day 40 years ago the first electric trolley car made its initial trip on the line from the cemetery to the Junction. Several of the passengers who made the trip still are living in Appleton. The same car also made a run to the Ashland division depot. It was a crude chain driven vehicle, much different than the modern cars in use.

Special anniversary exercises had been planned by the Wisconsin Utilities association for this day, but on account of the inability to secure a bronze tablet in time and other obstacles, the celebration was postponed until next year.

FINDS POULIN NOT GUILTY IN INFANT CASE

Wife Of Notre Dame Professor Faints When Verdict Is Returned

By Associated Press
South Bend, Ind.—Harry Poulin, local haberdasher, charged by Mrs. Augusta Tiernan with being the father of her third child, was found not guilty in city court here Saturday.

Judge C. L. Ducomb made it plain in his comment that he found the defendant "not guilty" in the strict sense of the word. He said he believed there had been intimate relation between Mrs. Tiernan and Poulin. The fact, however, that Professor Tiernan lived with his wife throughout the entire affair, created the reasonable doubt that made it legally compulsory to find for the defendant.

Prosecutor Floyd Jellison and Professor Tiernan announced after Judge Ducomb had rendered his opinion that the case would be appealed and carried to the Supreme court of the United States if necessary.

"The decision was a great surprise to me," declared Professor Tiernan. "It swept me completely off my feet." A report sent out from this city Saturday morning that Prosecutor Jellison would file perjury proceedings against Harry Poulin, was branded by the state's attorney as untrue. "I have made no such decision," prosecutor Jellison said. "There is no foundation for such a report. The only action to follow this case so far as my mind stands, will be an appeal to the higher courts."

Mrs. Tiernan fainted as she was leaving the court room and was taken to her home in a taxicab.

PRESBYTERIANS TO VISIT ALL HOMES

Every home in the parish of Memorial Presbyterian church will be visited between the hours of 2 and 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the annual activities canvass. Twenty-eight callers will make up the groups which will "drop in" at each house for a friendly call.

All workers are to meet at the church at 2 o'clock. They will assemble at the home of the pastor, the Rev. E. W. Wright, when their work is completed. Lunch is to be served there. Reports will be made at the evening service.

The purpose of the canvass is to interest every member in some form of church activity, to extend greetings of the church to shut-ins, to find prospective members or those who have neglected their church life for special reasons, to find infants to be baptized and to learn of ways in which the church can be of service.

PARK WILL NOT BE CONSIDERED AS SCHOOL SITE

Board Of Education Definitely Decides Against That Location

Official action eliminating the city park as a junior high school site was taken at a special meeting of the board of education Friday afternoon at Appleton high school. A motion to this effect offered by J. Henry Harbeck received the unanimous support of members.

While the park was conceded as the most logical site in the city for one of the new school buildings, and while sentiment in favor of it was steadily increasing, yet none of the members favored it because of the protest that would be offered by admirers of the beauty spot and by surrounding property owners.

Mayor Henry Reuter, chairman of the meeting assured the board the common council would not offer it as a site. While some of the aldermen were in favor of using it for that purpose, there was not enough to carry it and in the event of a tie ballot he said he would vote against it.

BOARD HAS AUTHORITY
Attorney F. S. Bradford, who has been retained as counsel for the board, read a carefully prepared opinion showing the board was vested with authority to select the sites, buy or condemn the property necessary therefor and plan and construct the buildings, and as it had received from the state superintendent a certificate establishing the junior high schools he suggested the next step was to select the sites and engage the architects.

He said he understood that block 82, corner of College-ave. and State-rd., had been mentioned as a possible site for one of the buildings, and that an assistant official of the Soo Line, in reply to a letter, said the property was

EXPECT BREAK ANY MOMENT; HOPE WANING

Britain Ready To Fight Should Kemal Soldiers Attempt Advance

BULLETIN
By Associated Press
Constantinople—British officials admit that the Chanak situation is growing more critical and that the hopes for an amicable settlement are waning.

Constantinople — Large forces of British infantry have been landed here from the trans-Atlantic liner Glen-gorm Castle. These soldiers are to reinforce the lines on the Asiatic side of the Bosphorus which the British will defend in the event the Turkish nationalist army at Ismid begins a movement toward Constantinople. The Kemal army is understood to consist of two divisions.

The arrival of these several thousand additional British troops has encouraged the Greeks and the Armenians here to discard their Turkish fears and resume conventional western head gear. At the beginning of the present crisis every Greek and Armenian provided himself with a few which he wore continuously until he thought the danger of Turkish occupation was past. British airplanes flew over the capital causing a flurry of excitement in Istanbul. The aerial maneuvers gave the populace another evidence of Great Britain's preparedness to meet eventualities. The continued arrival of British war units has lessened the danger of an uprising within the city and checked the panicky flight of Christians to neighboring countries.

EXPECT RUPTURE
General Harrington seems to have exhausted his peaceful overtures and many fear that military action will follow.

A rupture between the opposing forces, it is thought, military quarters likely to be precipitated at any hour unless the Turks withdraw from the neutral zone.

The Turkish troops continue in close contact with the British. They have formed a screen around the British forces behind which they are making concentrations and reconnoitering.

The British have established a war time censorship. Hereafter the mention of names of regiments, their strength and destinations is prohibited.

APPROVE SMITH PLAN TO GOVERN GROWTH OF CITY

Planning Commission Accepts
City Planning And Zoning Ordinance

was possible in order that no misunderstandings may arise later. Some of the best features of such laws in other Wisconsin cities were incorporated into it.

Four principal areas are prescribed, one for residences only, another for local business districts, a third for commercial and light manufacturing, and a fourth for heavy industries. Each section set off for one of these specific purposes, described in one section and the ordinance by meter and bounds so there can be no encroaching on other territory.

There are three heavy manufacturing districts, one comprising all of the "flats," another the present factory district in the northeastern part of the city and a third at Appleton Junction. Little room is allowed for expansion of the northeastern area except to the north. A large area still unplatted is included in the Junction zone.

ROOM FOR EXPANSION

The present business section including College-ave and side streets and the region toward the Chicago and Northwestern depot is defined as a commercial and light manufacturing district with expansion limits defined, and permitting of no large factories or obnoxious forms of industry. A small area, similarly constituted is permitted at the junction.

Only about half a dozen places in the entire zone set aside for residence purposes only may be used for light business places where these are not already established. The allotted space in each of these is only the four corners at the intersection of two streets. This means that no stores, shops of any size, or places where any residence section may be one of the prescribed corners. Kinds of business which may go into specified zones are enumerated in the ordinance in detail.

FRAMED FOR FUTURE

Mr. Smith emphasized again to the two committees that the ordinance is not so much aimed at the city as at present constituted, but is framed for ten and twenty years hence. It is to be the means of providing a uniform growth of the city in a logical and satisfactory way, at all times protecting the rights of everybody, business places as well as homes. It also prescribes heights of buildings, building lines and other features that will not mar the architecture, beauty or symmetry of any street nor deprive any home or business place of light and sunshine. "Which land obtainable as cheaply as it is here, Appleton ought to spread out instead of going up in the air," said Mr. Smith. "You will have a much better city ten years from now if this is taken into consideration."

Appleton Must Economize In Coal Or Must Shiver

Supply Of Hard Coal Will Be Far Short Of Usual
Demand Here

The coal situation in Appleton has changed very little since the settlement of the strike. The supply is limited and will continue to be all winter. Soft coal can be obtained, but there is very little hard coal on the market. At present dealers are advising their patrons to put in a 30 or 60 day's supply to start off the winter otherwise they will be delayed in getting it when cold weather comes because of the rush.

One local dealer said Thursday that while soft coal will not be plentiful the coming winter there probably will be enough to supply all providing the car situation is normal and the winter is not too severe. He modified his statement, however, by saying economy would have to be practiced by all consumers.

TRY SOFT COAL

There are two classes of hard coal consumers, he said. One is the furnace user and the other is the magazine user. The magazine user has to use hard coal, but it would relieve the situation materially if the furnace user would substitute either coke or soft coal. Magazine users can do their bit in relieving the situation by using one-third to one-half pea coal with nut coal.

There is very little coal in private bins or in the coal yards of the city today and some consumers are delaying ordering a supply believing it will be plentiful and cheaper. They see coal in transit in trains which gives them a wrong impression. The greater part of what they see is used by manufacturing plants and only an occasional car is dropped off here for private consumption. Appleton households consume 1,000 carloads of coal each year aside from the amount used by manufacturers.

NO CHANGE IN PRICE

Prices are governed by supply and demand and according to local dealers the demand will equal the supply and that no variation of price can be looked for before the first of the year and possibly not then.

The latest information received by Green Bay dock operators is that when the Lakes close this season there will remain 6,000,000 tons of soft coal to be hauled before the normal demand of the Lakes region is satisfied and that not more than 50 per cent of the normal anthracite demand can reach the region west of the Lakes this season. The demand is said to be 23,000,000 tons. Of this amount 5,000,000 tons had been shipped up to Aug. 21. The estimates are that 10,000,000 tons is all that can be hauled before the closing of the season. This leaves about 8,000,000 tons to be hauled without the aid of the lake facilities. The shortage the operators say will result in a 10 per cent saving in burning, which will still leave approximately 6,000,000 tons to be hauled by rail.

not for sale. He felt satisfied that if the board appointed someone to present the matter to proper officials that no condemnation proceedings would be necessary.

Relative to sites J. Henry Harbeck moved that the chairman appoint a committee of three to make the necessary selections. Paul V. Cary offered an amendment enlarging the committee to four, one member from each school district, whose duty it would be to investigate the various sites and ascertain the cost and area and report to the board at a later meeting. As such committee the chair appointed Paul V. Cary, A. S. Galpin, George C. Lang and John Hantschel. The question of architects received considerable attention. No less than 15 firms from various parts of the country have notified Lee C. Rasey they are anxious to submit plans, but he said only a portion of them specialized in school work. Some of the experienced school architects, he said, would not enter into competitive bidding. What he was most anxious about was that the board should avoid the mistakes made by some cities in the selection of architects.

It was generally conceded the sites should be selected before the architects were engaged. Mr. Rasey said he had all the necessary data for the architects and had figured out that 33 room buildings including auditorium and gymnasium with accommodations for 600 pupils were needed. Upon motion of Paul V. Cary the chair appointed a committee consisting of W. H. Kreiss, J. Henry Harbeck, A. G. Koch and A. Fahlsstrom of which he was to act as chairman, to select architects and make their recommendations to the board.

Teachers of the high school were granted a day and a half holiday beginning Thursday noon, Oct. 12, to attend the meeting of the Northeast Wisconsin Teachers association at Oshkosh.

HEBREWS OBSERVE YUM KIPPER FEAST

The Day of Atonement, or Yom Kippur as it is called in Hebrew will be observed in synagogues throughout the world on Monday, Oct. 2. The solemnities will begin at sundown on Sunday evening and continue until sunset Monday evening.

No other holiday of the synagogues is invested with such importance as is attached to the Day of Atonement, which is a day of soul-searching and repentance.

The ceremonial observance requires the Jewish worshiper to withdraw from all worldly cares and devote himself to prayer and repentance. The devout mend all day in the synagogues and abstain from food and drink.

FREIGHT TRAINS, TAKEN OFF IN STRIKE, RESTORED

Train service of the local railway companies is gradually improving since the settlement of the strike and some of the trains are again running on schedule. While some of the freight trains have been restored such has not been the case with mail trains removed during the latter part of the strike. It is expected, however, they will be returned as soon as conditions warrant.

NAME MRS. HODGINS WOMAN'S CLUB HEAD

Wausau—The 1923 legislative program of the Wisconsin Consumers league was indorsed and sections of it restated in special resolutions and officers elected at Friday's session of the twenty-sixth annual convention of the Wisconsin Federation of Women's clubs. Mrs. Joshua Hodgins, Marinette, was elected president. She succeeds Mrs. James G. Chandler, Racine, who on retiring from the office as president of the state association automatically becomes director for Wisconsin of the General Federation of Women's clubs.

Other state officers elected include: First vice president, Mrs. A. H. Shoemaker, Eau Claire; second vice president, Mrs. George M. Coke, Milwaukee; recording secretary, Mrs. L. A. Leadbetter, Rhinelander; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Harvey Frame, Waukesha; treasurer, Mrs. Edward Hammet, Sheboygan; auditor, Mrs. C. F. Lamb, Madison.

2,000 PORKERS SOLD AT MONTHLY STOCK FAIR

Monthly market day Saturday attracted the usual crowd at the fair grounds. Buyers from the southern part of the state and from northern Michigan were lined up with double decked motor-trucks as early as 6 o'clock waiting for the automobile loads of young pigs that began arriving an hour later. It was estimated that more than 2,000 pigs were sold during the morning hours.

WANT BOOKS THAT WILL UNITE ALL CHRISTIANS

Washington—Intimation of a movement to unite conservative scholars of all denominations in the compilation of a reference book expected to enhance mutual understanding of all creeds, with the ultimate possibility of reuniting the branches of the Christian church was given at Friday's session of the National Council of Catholic men by the Rev. John Wynne, one of the editors of the Catholic Encyclopedia.

BEG PARDON

Through a misunderstanding of fact, it was reported in Friday evening's issue of the Post-Crescent that Mrs. S. W. Murphy, 493 College-ave, entertained at dinner for Mrs. Theodora Sturkow-Ryder at Riverview County club. This was an error as Mrs. Ryder gave a musicale for members of the club in general following a regular dinner at the club on Thursday. She was the guest of Mrs. J. P. Shiels of Neenah at dinner, not of Mrs. Murphy.

A divorce was granted to Mrs. Fred Roehl, not Mrs. George Roehl, as was stated in Friday's Post-Crescent.

PRINTS OF OLD MASTERS LOOK LIKE PAINTINGS

If you long to go through galleries in Europe and if you have always wanted to see the famous pictures, you have a chance to see hundreds of them in exquisite prints. There are eight folios of prints in color, including scenery, portraits, studies, marines and religious pictures at Ryan's Art store and you may look through them for the asking.

The reproductive coloring of the prints is a thing to be marveled at and the detail of the pictures even in small prints has not been sacrificed. The prints are made by a German color process with a half tone as the background. It is only with careful scrutiny or with the aid of a glass that the screen of the print is noticeable.

FIGHT SURE IF PARK IS PICKED AS SCHOOL SITE

Property Owners Threaten Injunctions To Keep School Out Of Park

Discussion of converting City park into a site for an east and junior high school has stirred up a hornet's nest, especially in the vicinity of the park.

A petition to prevent this step is in circulation, and threats of injunctions and other legal procedures are floating in the air. It is said that residents near the park are willing to spend $25,000 to conduct the battle and are prepared to carry it on for 80 years, or until the present high school students will have children of their own attending junior high school.

While some of the residents living near the park openly admit that conversion of the park into a school site would depreciate the value of their properties, others oppose the step because they profess to have the welfare of the community at heart.

SIGN PETITION
It appears that residents were so thoroughly roused to indignation over the proposal of using the park for a school ground that it required no persuasion to place their names upon the petition that is now being circulated. It is said that the first day nearly 100 subscriptions were obtained and that more than there are residents around the park. This would indicate a hostile feeling in other sections of the city also.

BEST IN APPLETON
"I oppose the use of City park for a school site," said E. A. Schmalz of the Downer Drug company, "not because I live there, but for the sake of the community. City park is the best developed park in the community. It is advantageously located on the street car line and on highway 15. Every one can see in passing what a beautiful place it is and what a favorable place it is in which to enjoy a rest. To take away this park would leave no park within easy reach of the business district or the college. It is needless to say, however, that the park will never be condemned."

Dr. V. F. Marshall is a vigorous opponent and has threatened to fight "to the limit."
"For many years this property has been used as a park," he said. "In the course of years people have come to love it. Many of us have built homes around this property because it is a park. Why, a half million dollars has been invested in homes in this district. Residents are not going to stand for having a school erected right in the center of that park. I will fight it to the limit and will spend considerable money to do it. And I am not the only one. One of us will try to secure an injunction to prevent it, and after that has delayed the building some other man will serve another injunction. Injunctions will tie up the work for years. And then, if we fail, I will sell my property and move out."

ALL READY TO FIGHT
G. W. Jones of the G. W. Jones Lumber company said he was one of

DIXIE HIGHWAY IS POPULAR RECORD

"Dixie Highway" and "Two Little Wooden Shoes" are the most popular records for this week with "Why Should I Cry Over You" and "Tricks" close behind. "Mister Gallagher and Mister Shean" still is a good seller.

Most popular records this week are as follows:
Victor—Don't Bring Me Posies On the Almo, My Cradle Melody Dixie Highway, Two Little Wooden Shoes Can You Forget, Salvatore Rose Wal kure, Samaroff.

Vocalion—At Parting I Hear a Thrush at Eve, Hot Lips Nobody Lied, Say It While Dancing-Blue, Old Time Waltzes Samson and Deliah Egyptian Ballet.
Edison—I Love Sweet Angelina I'll Stand 'Neath Your Window, Red Moon Waltz If I Had My Way Pretty Baby, Dixie Highway Two Little Wooden Shoes, Just Because You're You Keep on Building Castles, Sextet from Lucia.
Oke—Dancing Fool Dixie Highway, Anitra's Dance Ada, There's Only One Pal After All-Somebody's Mother, Great Red Moon Valse Ma Jolie, Spring Song Schubert's Waltzes Brunswick—Blue Sweet Indiana Moon Serenade Blues Oriole, King Cotten Jolly Coppersmith Bonnie Wee Thing Goodnight Little Girl Goodnight Standchen Von Shakes Pearce Sorrells De Viennes.

the first to sign his name to the petition that had been circulated in protest against the proposal.

"I am also willing to join those who will take legal action in the courts if that action is necessary," he said.

"This is a serious matter," said J. M. Humphreys, "and we are not quite ready to see the city park turned over for school purposes without making a protest. City taxes are heavy enough anyway. They might as well tax us a little more in order to purchase a $100,000 site for the school and let the city park alone. I too have signed the petition in opposition to it."

Herman Saecker of the Appleton Machine company did not sign the petition but it wasn't because he was averse to it. On the contrary he is ready to lead the legal fight to prevent the park being used for a school site.

"I am willing to spend $1,000 to prevent the step," he declared, "and I can name you a good many more who are ready to do the same."

NEED MORE PARKS
"I should like to know who was the first to propose the outrage parks, as it is. We have just bought a few parks trying to catch up. We need another in the Fourth ward and in a few other sections. But to dispose of City parks will undermine the spirit and enthusiasm for parks."

"Furthermore, it is not necessary to build a junior high school there when there is other available property. Why not build an addition to the high school instead, or build a junior high school on the same grounds? There is a half block at the First ward school that could be used without its costing the city a cent. Or why not build one junior high school only and defer building the second one for a few years? If two must be built, a site on Second ave. would be favorable enough for most of the students. As for the Fourth ward children, they will eventually have to be provided with a third junior high school in their district."

Some Kick in These!

Sporting goods factories in England are working overtime preparing for the opening of the English football season on Sept. 27. These women are busy putting the finishing touches on football covers.

Terrible The Way These College People Are Treated

Going to chapel every morning in the week and every week in the year except Christmas and spring vacation never was too popular with the Lawrence students, but now, it is awful, according to the long-faced youngsters. You see, chapel used to have a "kick" other than the one which they got from speakers, who "loved" to look into their bright and shining young faces, but now that has gone, gone, forever.

REASON ENOUGH

"Why all the gloom?" you ask. The seating committee of the faculty has put an end to all the excitement by seating the girls on one side and the fellows on the other. The students do not like it and they say so whenever they get together. It was fun to sit beside someone in chapel whom you never met in any other way, but now who can get any fun out of sitting beside a fellow if you are a fellow or a girl if you are a girl, they say.

"Pretty soon they won't let a fellow take a girl to a movie," pouted the girl who sat beside one of the most popular men in school.

"It's a darn shame. Pretty soon they won't let us come to the dormitories to call for a girl. It's fierce."

FLAGS TO FLY FOR DAILY WINNERS IN 'Y' COLOR BATTLE

Thermometer Will Tell Public Daily Results In Membership Drive

Every person who passes the Y M C A building while the membership campaign is in progress during the three days beginning Oct. 6 will be able to determine just which division is leading, besides knowing the number of members obtained.

Four pennants in colors of the divisions, red, orange, green and blue will be displayed on the flag pole when the race begins. The top position will be given the teams standing highest in number of members and money gained.

USE VARIOLORED "MERCURY"
Recognition also will be given by use of a thermometer which will be placed at one side of a large poster. The "mercury" will be run up each day according to the gains with 1,400 as the top figure, and it is hoped that tube will "bust" as it did in other years.

The mercury will not be of one color, however. The color used in extending it each day will be the tint of the division that led for the day. The gains not only will be shown but the group responsible for the biggest part thus will be indicated.

WEAR BUTTONS
Workers probably will be supplied with colored buttons showing their divisions. The tables and dining room will be decked in the campaign tents with the workers seated according to the color plan. Much rivalry is expected because of this pronounced method of distinguishing the workers. Most of the captains were meeting with good success the last few days in signing up the six required members for their teams. The list was expected to be completed by Saturday and the full organization then will be announced. Meetings are to be arranged next week for instruction of captains and assignment of material. Dinners will be held each evening during the drive to check up on the results.

Individual city maps showing territory allotted to each team have been completed. More than 200 of these had to be sketched. Membership renewal cards now are being assorted by districts and names of prospects listed. Extra helpers have been employed to handle the immense amount of detail so very little time will be required of the workers to complete the campaign.

Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Blommer and Mr. and Mrs. John Blommer of Milwaukee spent the weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Wittman Route 7.

One Reason for Mounting Sales

Hupmobile reliability, dashing performance, long life, low costs, these are all important reasons for the unprecedented sales records which the Hupmobile is making.

There is another reason, even more important.

Owners of cars whose first cost is less, are finding that they can obtain much more motor car economy and enjoyment in the Hupmobile for a slightly higher original price.

Owners of higher priced cars are discovering that the Hupmobile gives them all the practical advantages that costlier cars can give.

Hupmobile value makes powerful appeal to both classes of buyers.

Perfect Comfort on the Longest Tour The 1923 Buick Six Touring Sedan—$1935

For touring to the "Big Game" this fall, driving on the boulevard, or slipping along a country road in the hazy sunshine of Indian Summer, this smart new Buick six-cylinder touring sedan offers a degree of comfort that cannot be surpassed.

Long and low in appearance, it affords perfect riding ease and comfort for five passengers. Its well-knit chassis, new cantilever springs and strong frame take up the jars and jolts of the country road.

Broad plate glass windows give a wide vision to all occupants, while protecting them from chilling winds. Added warmth is provided by a heater. The interior of the Fisher built body is finished in handsome plush with individual seats in front. Driving convenience is assured by a longer steering column at a lower angle, complete instrument panel and longer gear shift lever.

Large Luggage Trunk

The handsome luggage trunk carried on the rear of the touring sedan models is as practical as it is striking. It will carry a suitcase or small luggage so that the passengers need not be inconvenienced.

The Buick Line for 1923 comprises fourteen models: Four—2 Pass. Roadster, $865; 5 Pass. Touring, $935; 3 Pass. Coupe, $1175; 5 Pass. Sedan, $1395; 5 Pass. Touring Sedan, $1325; Sixes—2 Pass. Miss Veronica Green Becomes Bride Today

Following a high mass in St. Mary church, Miss Veronica Jane Green, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Green, 693 Drew-st., and Walter Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Johnson of Rhinelander, were married at the parsonage of the church at 9 o'clock Saturday morning. The Rev. Messrs. W. J. Fitzmaurice performed the ceremony. The couple was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Carson Green.

The bride wore a traveling suit of silk faille in cocoa color with a hat of the same color. Her bouquet was of orchids and lilies of the valley. Mrs. Green wore a black net dress and a flowered hat. Her bouquet was of pink roses.

After a wedding breakfast at the Sherman house, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson left by auto for Milwaukee and Chicago. They will be at home to their friends after Nov. 1 in Rhinelander.

PARTIES

More than 500 young people attended the first community dance of the season given at Armory G by the Sports Council of Appleton Womens club on Friday evening. Music was furnished by the Valley Country club orchestra of Neenah.

More than 250 Lawrence students attended the annual walk-around in front of Main hall on Friday evening. Stunts were put on by each class with the assistance of a magna vox. Most of the students at the party were first year students.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold J. Fetting 1046 Durkee-st., were pleasantly surprised Friday evening by a party of 60 friends and neighbors on the second anniversary of their wedding. Cards and other games were played and the younger people diverted themselves with dancing. Albert Rehbein won first prize at cards, and Mrs. George Willenkaamp received the consolation prize.

Four Leaf Clover club was entertained by Mrs. J. E. Olson at her home 1238 Eighth-st., Friday afternoon. Prizes were won at cards by Mrs. John Beaulieu and Mrs. John Schultz. Mrs. Emma Casper will entertain the club next Tuesday at her home, 910 Morrison-st.

CLUB MEETINGS

EVERY ELK A BOWLER IS NEW SLOGAN OF CLUB

A meeting of the Elks will be held next Wednesday evening at which the various activities for the coming year will be considered. The bowling alleys will be officially opened on that evening and the slogan adopted by the bowling committee is, "Every Elk a bowler."

Complete Water Main

The 400 feet stretch of water main on Vine-st., was completed by the Appleton water department Friday, and work was commenced on 1,500 feet of main in Garfield-pl. Saturday. Employees of the water department are keeping closely behind the huge excavating machine used by Anthony Thomassen, contractor.

Chance To Get Acquainted At Womans Club

"Drop in and get acquainted with Appleton Womans club on Sunday afternoon" is the invitation which is being extended to every one by members of the recreation department, who will be hostesses at the first cozy at the clubroom on Sunday afternoon. Good use will be made of the kitchenette about supper time and more good use will be made of the piano and the music during the afternoon and evening. The rooms will be open from 2:30 to 9:30.

Hikers are urged to be at the room promptly at 2 o'clock to hike to the cottage at the lake, where a hikers organization will be established. They will return to the club in time to take the edge off their appetites.

WEDDINGS

The marriage of Miss Mary L. Keay, of Aberdeen, Scotland, sister of Mrs. John S. Oliver, 406 Pacific-st. to Alfred Oliver of Appleton, took place Friday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Oliver. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. E. W. Wright. Miss Esther Schindler and Alexander Moicomb of Kimberly attended the couple. Mr. and Mrs. Oliver left at once for Chain o' Lakes, Waupaca, and upon their return will make their home with Mr. and Mrs. John S. Oliver, 406 Pacific-st.

Alexander Laux has purchased the new H. J. Fink residence, 353 Third-st., Menasha. Mr. and Mrs. Laux and family will be settled in their new home after Nov. 1.

The Mason as Forester

Stephen Gerard, the great, level-headed philanthropist of a hundred years ago said:

"If I knew that I should die tomorrow, I should want to plant a tree today."

As a practical man, he was thinking not only of the beauty of trees but also of their practical value. We of today must do the same. If we cannot plant trees, at least, let us save what we have.

The man who builds a home of permanent materials saves many trees. There is need of such saving. The forests left in the United States, without careful replanting, will not suffice to give this country a permanent supply of lumber for those uses in which wood is supreme. Every stick of timber put to use for which permanent materials are as good or better is not only a bad investment, but a reckless waste. Every time a wooden house is built, the country suffers an unnecessary and wanton drain on its forests.

And every time a masonry-built house is erected, the trees get a respite, and human beings get a protection that protects.

Just as a matter of national economy, it is a patriotic service to use permanent building materials. The supply of wood is not gone, but it is being used up four times as fast as it is being replaced. The great lumber reserves have retreated farther and farther from the centers of civilization. A few years of cutting at the present rate will see the end of the Southern pine—the big stock of Northern pine is little more than a memory now. That leaves the Pacific coast as a last source of supply—and plans are being laid now to cut the last great stand of redwoods and use them for shingles.

Destroy trees thousands of years old to make kindling for the fire demon? What a piece of work for folks who call themselves practical!

The supply of permanent materials, on the other hand, is inexhaustible. It can be used up only by using up the crust of the earth itself. Stone, clay and the materials for cement are found almost everywhere, and in limitless quantities.

Give the man a chance to build your home, and he will help build the country, too. Moreover, he is the great, indispensable forester. Set him to work.

Natural Beauty Preferred To Drug Store Varieties

It is probable that Miss Mary Campbell, 16, Atlantic city, beauty prize winner is a natural beauty, local beauty specialists say.

What! You say it isn't even possible? Well, four out of five of local beauty specialists think it is.

It must be admitted we are not living in a natural age. There is a tendency, especially on the part of women to strive for something that can't be obtained and at the end of the race, when we look at hundreds of others we realize all must be "game losers" for there is not a drop of individuality left.

"Most girls have a nice skin," said one doctor of complexion, "but very few really know how to care for it. They dab on countless amounts of rouge, powder and pastes, to conceal the already missed skin, instead of using cleansing creams to make it naturally clean and fresh."

Charm lies in naturalness and can be attained only through careful treatment of the skin and hygienic living, they say. Every one loves and admires a natural beauty and that is just the reason Miss Campbell "walked off" with the highest honors. She possesses the much sought after charm and individuality she is different from the mob local beauty specialists aver.

RYE MILLERS FIND STATE CROP HUGE

Twelve exclusive rye millers of the Wisconsin State Millers association held a conference in the Sherman house Friday. K. L. Burns, Watertown, state president, was in attendance and L. Horton, manager of Appleton Cereal Mills and state secretary assisted.

Crop conditions and markets were discussed. It was found that the rye crop in Wisconsin is of record size and 38 1/2 per cent of normal, which will strengthen the market. Plans were made for attendance at a meeting of all members of the state association in Milwaukee Oct. 13.

KELLER WILL NOT BE CANDIDATE FOR COUNTY ATTORNEY

Democrat, In Independent Race Says Campaign Interferes With Plans

L. Hugo Keller, Independent candidate for district attorney in Outagamie-co., on Saturday filed his intention with the county clerk to withdraw from the race.

Mr. Keller, who is one of the only two Democrats to have their names on the primary election ballot, neither of whom received the necessary number of votes to secure the Democratic nomination for office. The other candidate was John E. Hantschell, now Independent candidate for county clerk.

The candidate for district attorney retired from the race because he has a number of other plans with which his political activities would interfere, he said.

"My withdrawal will have no bearing on the candidacy of Mr. Hantschell, however," he added. "Mr. Hantschell is going to stay in the race."

DEPERE IS FIRST GRIDIRON OPPONENT

American Legion Team Gets Started In Home Game Sunday Afternoon

Kaukauna.—Amateur football on a large scale will make its bow to Kaukauna at 2:30 Sunday afternoon when the local American Legion team will take the De Pere city team. Coach H. D. McChester of Lawrence college will referee. While no announcement was made of the lineup it is understood that the team will consist of many of last year's players. Coach Buck and Ashe have drilled with the candidates four nights a week and it is probable frequent changes will be made in the lineup.
The De Pere team comes here with a reputation. The team is made up of several former Green Bay packers and all are old school stars who know the game. A hard fight is predicted. Large crowds are expected to turn out for the first game.

POLICE ROUND UP SCHOOL DODGERS

Kaukauna.—Local police will be busy for some time rounding up children under eighteen years of age who are working and who forget that the law requires their attendance at a school for a definite period each week. Now that the public and parochial schools have become stable in enrollment, vocational school officials have checked up to determine where children are not attending school.
Letters were sent to more than 100 children within the age limit. About 40 answered the summons and appeared for registration but the names of the remaining 60 were turned over to the police. When the entire list has been covered and all have been accounted for, the day school enrollment will amount to considerably over 200 students.
Machine shop practice is perhaps the most popular choice among the boys although many register for cabinet making.

Social Items

Kaukauna.—Miss Grace Brenzel and Mrs. E. Musolf were prize winners at hearts at the card party given by the ladies of St. Mary church Friday evening in Elk hall.
August Heinz and Mrs. John Hing won first honors at the card party. Consolation prizes were awarded to Carl Specht and Mrs. Nick Timmers. Forty tables of school and 25 tables of hearts were in play. Dancing followed the card party. Music was furnished by the Electric City orchestra.
Twelve men were in attendance at a husking bee at the home of Martin Heindel Thursday evening, town of Kaukauna. Nearly 300 bushels of corn were husked. Entertainment and refreshments followed the bee.
The first meeting of the season of the Eta Beta Pi club was held Friday evening at the home of Miss Louise Kuehne. Twelve members were present. The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss Anita Ebersteiner.
Dr. F. E. Donaldson left Saturday noon for Milwaukee to attend the wedding of his nephew, Walter D. Corrigan, Jr., and Miss Lucile Thorsen. The wedding will take place at 7:30 Saturday evening. Miss Thorsen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Thorsen.
Announcement has been received here of the marriage of Ernest Reed of Los Angeles, Calif., and Miss Margie E. Wendland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Wendland, Wisconsin Rapids. The wedding took place last Saturday. The bride has relatives in Kaukauna and recently visited here for several weeks. The couple will reside in San Jose, Calif.

KAUKAUNA MASONS SEE DEDICATION OF TEMPLE

Kaukauna.—Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Radsch, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Towsey and Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Engdahl and daughter, Alice, attended the dedication of the Masonic temple at Clintonville Thursday afternoon and evening.
The new temple was erected at a cost of $45,000. It is a two story structure with a basement. The lodge rooms are on the second floor and a hall room, reception room and cloak rooms take up the first floor.
The dedication exercises were held in the lodge room of the temple at 8 o'clock and were conducted by the grand master, J. H. Langdon. C. B. Stanley of Clintonville presided at the afternoon's program.
At 6 o'clock a banquet and a dance was held in the new assembly hall. Masons from various parts of the state were in attendance at the dedication exercises and more than 700 people were served at the banquet, under the auspices of the ladies of the Eastern Star.
New London was represented by H. E. Cristy, F. L. Zaus, Matthew Lehman, J. F. Seering, O. J. Harlander, Miss Elizabeth Kuester, and the Messers and Mesdames Fay R. Smith, C. D. Feathers, E. F. Ramm, C. J. Thompson, M. C. Trayser, Thomas G. Roberts and G. H. Putnam.

WOMANS CLUB TO HOLD FIRST MEETING TUESDAY

Kaukauna.—Kaukauna Womens club will hold its first meeting of the year next Tuesday, Oct. 3, at the home of Mrs. F. W. Grogan. Roll call will be answered by current events.

A report from Mrs. Edward Zekind, delegate to the state federation convention, will be given. Music and selected readings also will be rendered.

STUDENT OCCUPY PULPIT ON SUNDAY

Kaukauna.—Matthew Worthman will occupy the pulpit in Reformed church Sunday morning. August Elshoff will preach Sunday evening. Morning services will be in the German language. Both young men are senior students at Reformed mission house. Christian Endeavor meetings will be held at 6:45. The monthly business meeting will be held at 7:30 Monday evening in the church basement.
Services in south Congregational church will be resumed Sunday. Sunday school will be held at the usual time and services will follow. Evening services also will be held. The Rev. Daniel Woodward, who was on the chautauqua platform during the summer is expected back to resume his duties.
Regular services also will be held in Reformed church. The new pastor, the Rev. W. P. Hulen will preach both morning and evening. Regular Epworth League devotional meetings will be held before church services Sunday evening.

BODY OF VETERAN TO ARRIVE TODAY

Kaukauna.—The body of Private William Dreger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dreger, who lost his life in France during the war, was to arrive at Kaukauna Saturday evening and was removed to the Dreger home. Military services will be held at 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon from the Methodist church. The Rev. W. P. Hulen in charge. The Kaukauna post, American Legion, will take charge of the funeral.
William Dreger is survived by one brother, Herbert and by his parents.

KAUKAUNA PERSONALS

Kaukauna.—Miss Ida Kamp, clerk in the local telephone exchange, will return Monday after a vacation of two weeks.
Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Runtz were business visitors in Appleton Friday.
Mr. and Mrs. William Paschen autoed to Green Bay Thursday.

Alban Gerend and Stanley Gerend left Friday for Marquette university Milwaukee, where they are students in the dental college.

WORTHMAN FUNERAL

Kaukauna.—Funeral services for 24 year old Rohm Worthman, son of the Rev. and Mrs. E. L. Worthman were held at 1:30 Saturday afternoon from the home and 2 o'clock from Reformed church. Prof. Alvin Grether of the Reformed mission house, was in charge. Pallbearers were Evelyn Dietzler, Irene Paschen, Marion Klumb, Ethel Dix. Burial was in Union cemetery.

700 MASONS ASSIST IN TEMPLE OPENING

Special to Post-Crescent
New London.—A number of New London people attended the dedication of the new Masonic temple at Clintonville Thursday afternoon and evening. A parade, headed by Knights of the Royal Arch, Masons and members of the Blue Lodge from Clintonville and surrounding cities, started at the new temple and made its way north and south on Main-st. and then west to the baseball park, where a commanding drill team from Oshkosh staged an exhibition drill.
The dedication exercises were held in the lodge room of the temple at 8 o'clock and were conducted by the grand master, J. H. Langdon. C. B. Stanley of Clintonville presided at the afternoon's program.
At 6 o'clock a banquet and a dance was held in the new assembly hall. Masons from various parts of the state were in attendance at the dedication exercises and more than 700 people were served at the banquet, under the auspices of the ladies of the Eastern Star.

Majority Preference Proves Cadillac Value
IT is a matter of record that more buyers choose Type 61 Cadillac than all other cars combined selling at the Cadillac price or higher.
We believe that the majority of buyers of high grade cars choose Type 61 because they have a clear conviction of its worth.
They buy it because, after mature reflection, they consider Type 61 Cadillac both the Standard of the World and the world's greatest motor car value.
When people record such clear favor for an automobile, it is obvious that they have some good reason for their preference.

GREEN BAY CREDIT MEN JOKE VICTIMS

Appleton Man Has Considerable Fun At Expense Of Bay Bureau

J. J. Jensen, proprietor of the Valley Mercantile company of Appleton, received a jolt Thursday evening when he was refused credit by the Green Bay Credit Men's association. Mr. Jensen appeared in person before the credit club at their meeting Thursday evening and asked for credit, stating that he was making plans for enlarging his business and lacked the necessary funds for the purpose.

Mr. Jensen stated that his real estate was valued at $8,000 and that it was covered by a small mortgage. Although he furnished excellent references, the credit men were unwilling to make the risk, saying he lacked the necessary security. Much hilarity was caused by the remark made by the Appleton merchant that he had purchased the property from his father-in-law, Isaac Abrahams, and Mr. Jensen was questioned as to his nationality. All manner of pointed questions were asked, but it finally was decided that Mr. Jensen was a poor risk.

Finally the veil was lifted, and it was explained by the secretary of the club that Mr. Jensen's real name was Gordon S. Fish, commercial manager of Heinemann & Krugmeier, and that the club members were the victims of a joke. Mrs. Fish also was present at the banquet of the Green Bay credit men.

OPEN PLANT TO MAKE NEW AUTO HOOD BOOT

Seekins Hood Cover Co. Starts On Small Scale—Will Branch Out

The latest manufacturing concern to begin operations in Appleton is the Seekins Hood Cover company, makers of automobile hood covers and boots. David Seekins and Fred V. Heinemann are joint owners, and their manufacturing plant, which has been begun on a small scale, is located at Washington and Catherine sts.

The company has installed two electric machines for the manufacture of the hood covers that have been invented and patented by Mr. Seekins. The patented article was exhibited at the automobile show on soldiers square during the Fall Style festival week and attracted considerable attention.

This season the company will cater only to Appleton retailers with the hope of enlarging their plant next year to take care of the needs of out of town merchants. They intend to branch out into other cities at that time.

A feature of the Heinemann-Seekins patent is that the device is designed to cover the automobile crank case as well as the hood. The boot is adjusted by four tension rods to make it strong and serviceable. The purpose of the boot is to keep the dust away from the carburetor and retain the engine heat at a point where the oil will not congeal in the winter. It is designed so that the heat can be driven from the motor back into the car so as to make a closed car as comfortable as a heated room. The device was used for experimental purposes all last winter. Special hoods are made to order for certain cars. A number of local auto dealers have expressed their intention of selling the Appleton made product.

SEND DELEGATE TO RAILROAD MEETING

Joseph Schultz of Appleton has been selected as delegate to represent this district at the triennial meeting of the grand lodge of the maintenance of ways and railroad shop workers which opens Oct. 2 at Detroit.

The sessions will run from one to two weeks. More than 3,000 local lodges will be represented by from 1,500 to 2,500 delegates.

The last meeting of the grand lodge was held in Detroit in 1919. At that time the railroads were under government control and the problems to be met differed from those of the present time.

The meeting promises to be the most important in the history of the organization.

Bridges Completed

The concrete bridge that was erected just south of Combined Locks to replace another that was washed out in the floods of June 10 is now completed and will be open to traffic in a few days. Two bridges at Darboy, removed from each other by a half mile, also replacing washout bridges, have been completed and are opened to traffic.

PAIGE

The Most Beautiful Car in America

13 Models Backed by One Principle

The Paige and Jewett group of motor cars consists of thirteen distinct models—all sizes—and ranging in price from $995 to $3350.

In this great field of choice there are standard open and closed models and very distinctive "specials" in a variety of colors.

So, no matter what your purse or fancy may dictate, Paige is prepared to satisfy it with the right car at the right price. Such is the advantage of a concentrated manufacturing policy.

But whether you buy a Jewett or a Paige—standard or special—it must be a Six. For that is the one principle of engineering recognized in this factory.

As to the wisdom of this policy, there can be no question among enlightened people. Paige builds Sixes exclusively because they are more economical, more comfortable, more dependable and most efficient. Sizes do beat fours.

We invite you to inspect this great line of motor cars.

The thirteen Paige-Jewett Passenger cars follow:

JEWETT—5-Passenger Touring, $995; 3-Passenger Roadster, $995; 5-Passenger Special, $1095; 4-Passenger Coupe, $1445; 5-Passenger Sedan, $1465. BRITAIN'S FAR FAMED SYSTEM OF LAW SLIPS A COG

British People Excited Over
Charge of Separate Law for Wealthy

By Milton Bronner

Special to The Post-Crescent

London—Is there one law for the poor and one for the rich?

That question is being seriously asked here, and though the Briton's chief boasts always has been that every man, aristocrat or slum dweller, stands equal before a British judge.

And the discussion threatens to ruin the political career of Home Secretary Edward Shortt, Liberal minister in Lloyd George's cabinet.

OUTGROWTH OF MURDERS

The debate, which has shook all England, is the outgrowth of two particularly gruesome murders.

Lady White, a gentlewoman, was found last March dead in bed in a hotel, her head battered. At the same time, Olive Young, music-hall favorite, was found slain in her room.

The White killing was fastened on Henry Jacoby, 18, pantry boy. Jacoby, evidence disclosed, was surprised in rifling Lady White's possessions and he killed to make sure his flight.

Ronald True, former aviator connected with the aristocracy, was accused of the Olive White killing. The killing, evidence showed, was deliberately planned with a view to robbing the music-hall girl of her jewels. Thus, in the White case, a youth of no standing stood charged with slaying a member of the aristocracy. While in the Young case, a member of the aristocracy was charged with killing a music-hall "nobody."

The trials of both were speedy. The jury found Jacoby guilty, but recommended mercy.

Much money was spent to marshal medical evidence as to True's insanity. The jury didn't believe him insane, found him guilty and made no mercy recommendation.

SENTENCED TO DEATH

In both cases the death sentence was imposed. In both there was an appeal to the highest court and the appeal was dismissed.

Attorneys for Jacoby claim they sought in vain an audience with Shortt to discuss the jury's recommendation. Petitions were signed by many asking for commutation of the sentence to life imprisonment.

But the youth was hanged.

Two days later, it was quietly announced a secret medical examination had been made of True and the experts agreed he was insane. He was reprieved and committed to Broadmoor Prison for the Criminal Insane.

SHORTT ATTACKED

Immediately all guns were trained on Shortt, who granted the reprieve. Papers of all degrees of political opinion have combined in attacking Shortt as unfit to hold his job and as even more unfit to wind up his career as a judge, his ambition.

Shortt has been fighting back in statements and in speeches in Parliament. His contention is the law left him no option.

PREACHER SAYS ENGLISH MORALS ARE AT LOW EBB

President of Wesleyan Conference Declares Many Hold Life Cheaply

By Associated Press

London—The Rev. John E. Wakerly, the new president of the Wesleyan Conference, denounced the immorality existing today in English society both high and low, in his presidential address.

On the same day that his utterances were published here, there appeared a dispatch from New York in which the prevalence of vice and immorality in America was denounced by the National Council of the Protestant Episcopal church.

American readers may be interested in learning that according to Dr. Wakerly, English morals are apparently quite as bad as American morals.

"Human life by many is held very cheaply," was his indictment. "There is scarce a day when you do not open your paper upon some sordid story of the slaughter of some innocent."

"The standard of morals between the sexes in many places is very low. The sacredness of the marriage relationship is openly pooh-poohed; lust tramples truth, integrity, and domestic happiness beneath its feet."

"You have increased the number of your judges in the courts which deal with domestic tragedy because of the number of people who have sought relief in that direction. When you have done that, you have only touched the fringe of the evil."

"Your cities have no monopoly of vice. Get rid of the impression that because your villages are picturesquely placed they are therefore homes of deep spirituality. Alas! it is not so."

"You have frequently in what you think your fair village life a low moral sense, which is indicated by an unworthy estimate of womanhood."

"We have been reminded in the last few weeks that materialism is truly bankrupt in philosophy, in the natural sciences, and in practical life, and that the only alternatives are a continuance of the present chaos till it ends in a crash, or a return to a spiritual view of the universe."

JORDAN Smashes Prices on Quality Closed Cars

(Effective Today)

Now you can buy the fascinating Jordan enclosed models at the same price as other open cars in the Jordan class.

It is easy enough to reduce prices if you cut the quality as well.

Cheap car builders have attempted that in the quantity field.

It is something vastly different to improve quality and reduce prices at the same time. But that is exactly what Jordan has done.

Open Car a Luxury

Jordan knew that the open car was becoming more and more of a luxury—because it could be used with satisfaction for only a part of the year.

The enclosed car is now a necessity—because it affords comfort and satisfaction all the year around.

Five years ago Jordan predicted the present tremendous output of cheap closed cars—adding that he would never build one in that class.

Jordan knew that women would not long endure lack of ventilation-control and good vision.

Enclosed body production was at that time limited.

Eventually a Jordan

And the mass of cheaper car owners had not been educated to the use of closed cars.

Then something happened.

Quantity producers began to build enclosed cars in volume. The public bought in volume.

The process of education began.

Today nearly everyone wants an enclosed car.

Some will be satisfied temporarily with the cheaper kind.

Some may continue to use the old fashioned high priced and bulky type.

But those admirable people who prefer less bulk with equal quality, ease of handling, real gas and tire mileage, rare beauty—in short economy with distinction—will choose the Jordan.

How Jordan Does It

Jordan closed car prices are astounding—of course—when you consider Jordan quality.

But it's just as easy to attain volume on a quality car as on a cheap one.

And volume makes low overhead—low overhead makes price.

That's the story.

A Shortage—of Course

We cannot hope to deliver the new enclosed models at the new prices as fast as they can be sold.

There will be some irritating delays—no doubt.

That is the little payment we must make for success and satisfaction.

But just do this—

Go into any Jordan salesroom. Compare the Jordan enclosed models with only the finest closed cars built.

Then ask the price.

I got her a place in the chorus at the Varieties. She made up a name for the stage Liane Delorme. And that is all. You see, it was very simple."

"And she was grateful?"

CHAPTER XV

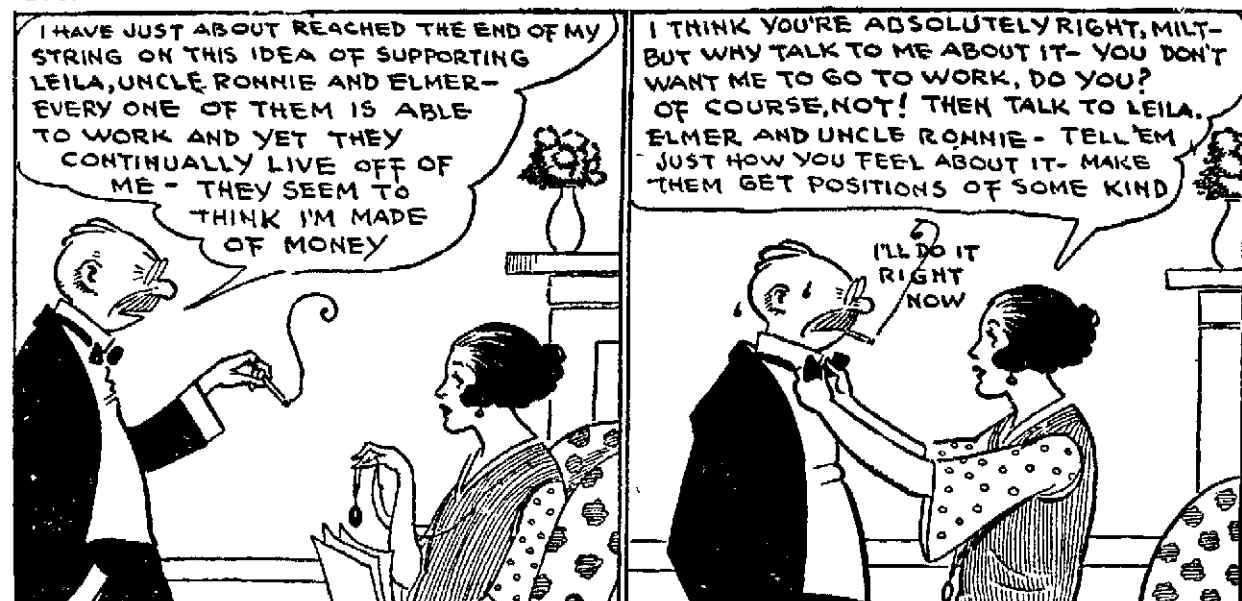

"Oh! that was so long ago and such a trifling thing, one wonders at remembering it at all—I happened, one night, to be where I had no right to be. That was rather a habit of mine. I'm afraid. And so I discovered, in another man's apartment, a young woman, hardly more than a child, trying to commit suicide. You may believe I put a stop to that—Later, for in those days I had some little influence in certain quarters,

GIRL IS FINDING
NEW USES FOR OLD
GLASS STAIN ART

Modern Temples of Commerce
Should Be Beautified
With Color

BY MARIAN HALE
That the colorful beauty of the ancient cathedrals of worship should be revived in our modern cathedrals of commerce is the belief of Mary Fraser Wesselhoft.

This original artist who has found new uses of an age-old art, is one of the very few women who has attained any importance as an artisan in stained glass.

She uses it as medium for modern subjects treated in a modern way—for figures of dancers problems in color and design, and futuristic panels, as well as for religious subjects.

"Lovely mosaic windows should not be entirely associated with a dim religious light, regardless of the fact that poets have ordained it. They should break the dreadful monotony of our modern architecture of glass and steel," she says.

WHERE BEAUTY COUNTS

"Main Street's newest office building or Gopher Prairie's duplex homes would appreciate being brightened up with a little beauty and color just as much as Solomon's temple or Rumsfeld cathedral."

"A single motif of colored glass inserted in a hallway or set like a jewel in a group of ordinary windows, serves as a novel decorative note and makes a beautiful picture."

"For a long time the church has realized the relation between color and the emotions and has applied this knowledge to gain the desired effect on the worshiper."

"Green is the color of rest and calm, and is conducive to pleasant thoughts and mental relaxation. The color of sunlight, radiates cheerfulness and optimism."

"Red is a forward color—the color of action and strife, while blue is a receding color suggesting aspiration and sublimity."

"When colors are placed in a room in the intensive way they are in stained glass there is bound to be a reaction on those who enter."

"Flower motifs may be carried out in stained glass and are lovely in a bedroom. I use little gray or black and much pure, intensive color so that my windows let in a much brighter light than the ordinary stained glass window."

"In my studio I have many pieces hung up as pictures. By experiment I have found that a piece of stained glass with light effects on them I am unusual effects. I cannot advise home makers too strongly to introduce color and light into their homes."

It is only during the last few years that Miss Wesselhoft has taken up stained glass work seriously. Before she only experimented with it along with other forms of art.

Though she finds great satisfaction in working out secular subjects and experimenting with modern technique, her imposing window in Grace Church, Kansas City, shows what she can do with a religious theme and a conventional handling.

She has studied extensively in this country and abroad and has had many exhibitions in both continents.

TESTED RECIPE

SCALLOPED APPLES

By Bertha E. Shapleigh

1 quart soft stale bread crumbs
1/2 cup butter
1 quart sliced apples
1 cup seedless raisins
1/2 cup brown sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup cold water
Melt butter and add crumbs and mix thoroughly. In a baking dish, well buttered, put a layer of crumbs then a layer of apples and sprinkle with sugar mixed with cinnamon and salt. Repeat until apples, sugar and crumbs are all used. Have a layer of crumbs on top.
Gently pour in the water. Bake in a moderate oven one hour or until apples are soft. Serve with cream or hard sauce.
Peaches may be used in place of apples, and nutmeg instead of cinnamon.

LEARN A WORD
EVERY DAY

Today's word is—APLOMB
Generally it's pronounced—a plumb, with accent on the second syllable, but strictly speaking the word being French, the two syllables should be accented equally and the second one should finish with a sound somewhere between "m," "n" and "ng." A nasal with no exact equivalent in English Webster gives it as a plon, with the first syllable accented but the second more heavily so.
It comes from French "a" to and "plomb," lead.
Literally, it means—perpendicular—but ordinarily has the sense of "assurance of manner self-possession."

It's used like this—"Kemal Pasha's aplomb in his dealings with the allies doubtless is due in great measure to his assurance of French and Italian sympathy with Turkey's claims."

BE TRUE TO YOURSELF IN PICKING
CLOTHES, BEAUTY ADVISES

MISS CAMPBELL

This is the last of three articles on beauty by Mary Katherine Campbell who won the first prize and the title "Miss America" in the recent national beauty contest at Atlantic City. In it she tells her theory of dress—MARIAN HALE

BY MARY KATHERINE CAMPBELL
Clothes do not make the woman, but the right clothes do make for peace of mind and freedom from self-consciousness, which are most important, I believe, in gaining poise and charm.

And the wrong clothes are as libelous about your personality as misstatements.

The object of clothes, as I see it, is not to draw attention to themselves, but to bring out individuality and character of her who wears them. When a gown causes others to say "What a stunning creation!" I think it has failed in its mission. When it brings forth an enthusiastic "Isn't that girl a real beauty?" I think it has succeeded.

CREATE YOUR TYPE

When a gown is so ornate and conspicuous it overpowers the wearer, it becomes her rival instead of her ally.

In clothes, as in everything else, I believe in bringing out your best points and creating your own type, regardless of Paris.

One is well dressed only when one can entirely forget clothes and radiate personality instead.

Since I was 10 years old I have been selecting my own clothes. At first I wasn't always successful but by mother encouraged me to exercise my own taste and to learn by experience what I liked and what I wanted to avoid.

On the whole, I believe this is an excellent plan, for I now have a well-defined idea of what I want which I cultivated for myself, and which I adhere to in spite of fashion changes.

Because I like to be perfectly unconscious of my clothes afterward I take good care in selecting them. I buy good materials because they wear best and look well for a longer period.

I select conservative models, on good lines, and avoid ornamentation that is likely to require a great deal of repair later, or frills that cannot be laundered and lose their freshness.

PREFERS SIMPLE LINES

Simple straight lines appear to me because they are girlish. For street wear I like dark colors, gaining variety in color in my hats, collars or accessories.

Navy blue amounts to a positive weakness with me but I've learned by experience that my regard for it is genuine.

I think small hats are smartest but large ones most flattering, so I try to represent both in my wardrobe.

Short skirts are much more youthful than long ones, so I prophesy the extremely long ones will not last long. Nine inches from the floor seems to be the ideal length.

My sartorial creed isn't particularly distinctive and it really just amounts to this. To think own self be true, in clothes as in everything else.

Cinderella Sally

Chapter 1 — A Girl Who Would Not Be Downed

By Zoo Beckley

"Oh, Cinders, you careless creature! Look how you've mixed the paper with the garbage again! I've told you a hundred times you gotta keep 'em separate. Use your eyes, can't you?"

Marie personal maid to the nouveau riche Mrs. Stanley and immediate boss over Sally Dawson in the huge Stanley establishment on Ter race road, stood arms akimbo her thin face twisted sourly at her helper.

Sally stopped peeling the potatoes, let the peeler slip from her hand into the murky water and stared absently into space—the space of the great white and nickel kitchen of the Stanley house. You couldn't have read her mind much less have seen her face half concealed by a fall of taffy colored hair that had a way of flopping straightly down whenever she moved her head.

It was the afternoon of a big house party and Sally had been too rushed even to notice the streaks of pot black and potato-earth that had got smeared upon her moist face. But an inkling of her state of mind could be had from her tone as she answered.

My name isn't Cinders. If you want an answer from me try calling me by my right name. I might con sider it then.

Well, you're a stuck-up little squirt," Marie spoke with more temper than elegance. "It don't become you very good either—you that was left on top of an ash can. They called you Cinders in the orphan asylum didn't they?"

"Cinders—ah, Sarah—Marie tells me you have been impudent." Madame began, her cold eyes stripping Sally to the skin. "You will beg her pardon at once!"

Hints

OF HUNTER'S GREEN

There's something reminiscent of the Alpine hunter in a green felt hat with a tannish rolling brim outlined with black velvet and three quills shading from gunmetal to pearl gray placed at one side of the crown.

CHENILLE FLOWERS

Chenille flowers trim many of the smartest frocks and hats. Some times these are embroidered directly on the fabric or they may be appliqued. The more brilliant the colors the better.

UNUSUAL FROCK

A blue serge frock, cut on delightfully girlish lines, with the waistline at the normal place is trimmed only with diamond shaped medallions of black silk braid and a sash of American Beauty colored gossamer.

MARRIAGE A LA MODE

At the smallest home wedding the throwing of her bouquet, to be scrambled for by the members of her bridal party, is one of the features the American bride does not forget.

The German bride does not throw her flowers, but one of her white satin bridal slippers. The significance, however, is the same. Whoever is successful in catching the souvenir will be married soon.

Indian Leader Says There is Impassable Barrier Between East and West

By Associated Press

Ahmedabad, India—Mahatma Gandhi, in prison here for sedition, declares his loss of liberty cannot materially affect the progress of India national ism, and urges his friends to carry on the work in which he had so large a part. He has no complaint to make regarding his treatment by prison of ficials.

Gandhi remains loyal to the principle of Swadeshi, which he defines as "that spirit in us which restricts us to the use and service of our immediate surroundings, to the exclusion of the more remote." In religion he would follow only the forms of worship used by his ancestors in politics, he would make use only of indigenous institutions, in economic life, he would use only things produced by his immediate neighbors, and would serve only those industries which are native to his own country. He is at enmity with modern civilization.

Writing to a friend in India Gandhi explains his beliefs and aims in these words:

"There is no impassable barrier between east and west. There is no such thing as western or European civilization but there is a modern civilization which is purely material. The people of Europe, before they were touched by modern civilization had much in common with the people of the East."

CIVILIZATION RULES

"It is not the British people who are ruling India but it is modern civilization through its railways, telegraphs, telephones, and almost every invention which has been claimed to be a triumph of civilization. Bombay, Calcutta and the other chief cities of India are the real plague spots."

If British rule were replaced tomorrow by Indian rule based on modern methods, India would be no better except that she would be able then to retain some of the money that is drained away to England but then India would become only a second or fifth nation of Europe or America. East and West can only really meet when the West has thrown overboard modern civilization almost in its entirety. They can also seem to meet when the East has also adopted modern civilization but that meeting would be an armed truce."

BLACK MAGIC

"Medical science is the concentrated essence of black magic. Quackery is infinitely preferable to what passes for high medical skill. Hospitals are the instruments that the devil was using for his own purpose in order to keep his hold on his kingdom. They perpetuate vice misery degradation and a dreadful slavery. If there were no hospitals for venereal diseases or even for consumptives we should have less consumption, and less sexual vice among us."

India would wear no machine made clothes, whether it comes out of European mills or Indian mills.

India's salvation consists in un learning what she has learned during the past 50 years. The railways, telegraphs, hospitals, lawyers, doctors and such like have all to go and the so-called upper classes have to learn to live religiously and deliberately the simple peasant life knowing it to be a life giving true happiness."

"There was true wisdom in the sages of old having so regulated society as to limit the material condition of the people, the rude plow of the husbandman today. There are less sal vation. People live longer under such conditions, in comparative peace much greater than Europe has enjoyed at ter having taken up modern activity."

SCHOOL BOYS IN EGYPT GIVE OLD
POLITICIANS RUN

Government Thinking of Action
To Curb Fanatical
Tendencies

By Associated Press

Cairo, Egypt—The inauguration of a strict policy by the Egyptian government to deal with the fanatical enthusiasm of the school boy politicians is regarded by all the native papers as a necessity of the hour, if the Egyptian political and educational structures are to be saved from disruption.

The students in the universities and high schools of the country who come forward last year and joined in street demonstrations to help win political freedom from Egypt, have now developed a new movement which seems to be a general revolt against all existing customs that conflict with their own personal aggrandizement.

The student, conscious of their power, have turned their energies to eliminating examinations. Their political slogan a year was "We do not want the English." Today they are shouting "We want no more examinations." And they are keen enough to plan a campaign which will use politics as a lever to make easier their classroom work.

The elections for members of the new parliament are set for October. The students aim to see that only candidates who heed their demands are returned to both houses. Their election cries are now being tried out in this wise "Vote for Mahmoud Bevi and no examinations."

Followers of Zaghloul Pasha are taking advantage of the students' overzealousness and are showering upon them all kinds of promises for votes at the coming elections.

Now Can Do All Her Housework
Alone—Because Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her

Jasper, Minn.—"I saw in the paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and took it because I was having such pains in my stomach and through my back that I could not do my work. I had tried other medicines, but none did me the good that your Vegetable Compound did. Now I am able to do all my work alone while before I had my daughter staying at home to do it. I have told a number of friends what it has done for me and give you permission to use my letter as a testimonial." —Mrs. JESSE PETERSEN, Route 1, Jasper, Minn.

There is no better reason for your trying Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound than this—it has helped other women. So if you suffer from displacements, irregularities, backache, nervousness or are passing through the Change of Life remember this splendid medicine. What it did for Mrs. Petersen it may do for you.

The Vegetable Compound stands upon a foundation of nearly fifty years of service.

Adventures Of
The Twins

Torty Turtle Is Treated

One day when Nancy was dusting Dr. Snuffles' office, the doorbell rang and in walked Mr. Torty Turtle, moaning and groaning and sighing and making a dreadful fuss.

"Hello, Torty, what's wrong?" asked Nancy, helping him as well as she could, for poor Torty didn't have a thing to catch hold of.

"Everything," declared Torty. "I've eaten too much. I was at a party last night and I had 10 lightning bugs, six slippers, 15 mosquitoes, 32 flies, two daddy long legs, nine spiders and a thousand leggers for dessert."

"I couldn't get to sleep at all, and this morning I feel as if I'd swallowed the Panama Canal."

Just then the fairman doctor came bustling in.

He looked at Torty's tongue and felt his pulse and took his temperature and then filled some bottles with pills.

Here you are, Torty, said he kindly. "I know exactly what's wrong with you. Here are five kinds of medicine one's for the pain in your ear, one's for the rheumatism in your toe, one's for the cold in your nose, one's for that tired feeling in the last is to give you an appetite."

"But doctor, protested Torty, I have no rheumatism or cold or tired feeling. All I've got is—"

"Tut tut!" said the doctor. "I know better than you, my dear sir, what's wrong with you. Take my advice and medicine and you'll be better tomorrow."

When Torty was gone the Twins asked the little doctor why he hadn't given Torty something for his tummy ache.

I did, laughed the fairman. "It was all for his tummy. But I didn't let on for fear he'd ask me for a plaster. And how could I ever put a plaster on Torty's tummy?"

MARRIAGE OF PRIESTS
MADE EASIER IN RUSSIA

By Associated Press

Moscow—Questions relating to the right of marriage of the clergy have been thrashed out at the congress of the "new living church," which aims to succeed the old orthodox church of Russia. The conclusion was reached by the "young clergy," as they call themselves that virtually all restrictions of wedlock be removed.

After devoting several days to discussing matters of matrimony it was decided to permit married priests to become archbishops; to allow priests to marry a second time and retain the same dignity as before to permit monks to marry after they have renounced their vows and without losing their rank of honor, and to permit priests to marry widows. It was also decided not to consider as an obstacle to marriage the fourth degree of relationship.

Requests to the Soviet government providing for the transfer of all the treasures of the churches and monasteries of the old regime, were framed as part of the program gradually to take over the affairs of the old orthodox church.

The "new living church" desires the establishment of a single church treasury, and in this connection it has made plans for handling all the sums collected in the various churches throughout Russia, the government having been asked to make it possible for the new element to take over administration of church affairs. This includes a tax to be collected from the worshippers, revenues from the cemeteries and the various sources from which money is derived.

I SPIED TODAY

The "I SPIED TODAY" section of the Post-Crescent is becoming one of the most popular features in the paper. Dozens of letters are received daily but many of the contributors have missed the purpose of the column and as a result their items cannot be printed. This section is for reporting unusual news happenings, with an element of human interest, which have escaped the reporters. Two tickets for Fischer's Appleton theatre are given for every item printed. Tickets may be obtained at the Post-Crescent office immediately after the items are published.

ANOTHER COP

To be stopped by a policeman is one thing but to stop at the corner of Oneida Street and College Avenue unintentionally and then receive a lecture from a policeman is another thing. I saw a woman, driving a Ford Sedan, kill her engine as she tried to turn the corner that I have mentioned. In trying to start, her engine was flooded with gasoline and she was unable to get it started. Several cars were kept from passing the corner and the policeman came out to give her a lesson in running a Ford.

LESSON IN COURTESY

Yesterday on the street car I saw a old lady who boarded the car at the end of the line. The seats were not up and she was not strong enough to do it herself, so she stood there looking expectantly at a man who sat near her. Just then another man stepped up and raising his hat, said "Would you like that seat turned madam?" The lady thanked him and sat down.

GOT A NOSE FULL

As I was passing a barber shop at Kaukauna yesterday afternoon a small boy came out. His chin, who was across the street ran up to him saying, "Gee! Jimmie you look pretty, let me smell of your hair."

LESSON IN SANITATION

My small son, aged 3 and I were returning from Neenah not long ago, when a man entered the street car and sat down behind us. He was no sooner seated than he spit on the floor of the car. At once, my son was on his knees looking over the back of the seat and after staring hard at the man he said "Say, this isn't any spitting place."

THIS GOT A LAUGH

Stepping off a street car this morning I heard a loud report and turning to look, saw that one of the Kaukauna busses had run into a telephone pole at the corner of College Ave. and Oneida St., damaging the radiator. This amused several street car patrons and their ha ha's could be heard for some distance.

Can't Have Lawrence Grid Field As Site For School

President Plantz Incensed At Suggestion That Field Be Purchased

If an attempt to take over City park for junior high school site is unsuccessful, the city will encounter another fight if attention is directed to the possibility of condemning Lawrence athletic field for school purposes.

Fight is the right word, because Dr. Samuel Plantz, president of Lawrence college, is in a frame over the thought of robbing his boys of what is their main place of recreation and what to the college is the strongest magnet for college men.

"Whoever made the suggestion to buy Lawrence athletic field for a school site," he said, "does not know that we are not expecting to part with it easily. We are ready to take it to the courts, because we know that as far as the men are concerned, and that it is the only field available. I am certain that the supreme court of Wisconsin will never sustain the condemnation of that field."

"Take away the athletic field and we lose our men. What the field means to us, the college means to the city. Every year this institution pays to the city about $260,000, and this amount does not include what the 1,300 students spend in the city. This brings the amount to more than a half million dollars. And to this amount also the money the parents would pay, if they were compelled to send their children elsewhere to be educated. No, I believe the board of education considers the college too much of an asset to the city to rob it of one of its best mainstays."

The college, he said, had already made a substantial sacrifice when it had parted with the original athletic field and sold it to the city for park purposes. This site is now City park.

NEED COURTESY TEACHER

I was standing on the corner talking to two Lawrence freshmen, when I noticed the girl from the college who is nearly blind coming down the street alone. Just then a youngster with a coaster cap came around the corner at a breakneck speed. The girl sensed her danger, but was unable to avoid it and the boy missed her by not more than two inches.

MISTAKEN IDENTITY

A woman was walking down College Ave. with a baby apparently two years old or thereabouts. The woman was holding the child's hand when suddenly the child broke away and running up to a passerby—who happened to be a man (undoubtedly resembling her daddy) cried, "here's daddy, Mama!" The woman apparently embarrassed took the child and proceeded on her way, while the man placed in a peculiar position, blushed to the roots of his hair.

EVERY DAY OCCURRENCE

Peggy and Nig fight like a cat and a dog, but that isn't at all strange for they are just that. Peggy is a great white cat with the eyes of a tiger, and Nigger is just a small black pup. The mistresses of both pets were having a little friendly chat as I passed by, the one leaning on her broom and the other resting from shaking her rugs.

INVOLUNTARY BATH

The class instructor was explaining how he made the ink used in the school. A young lady was standing in front of another student, who had a bottle of the fluid in her hands. All unaware of her danger she turned her head slightly back to ask a question, and in some manner quite unexplainable received the contents of the bottle in the face.

THE DRIVER SHOOK HIS FIST

I saw a large touring car with two spare tires turn up Foster Street. A boy who was standing on the corner ran after the car, and climbed in the spare tires. He rode about a block when the tires fell off and the boy with them, but he escaped injury, and he was up and gone before the driver could get out of his car.

THAT GUILTIEST FEELING

As I entered the doctor's office Friday afternoon, a small girl, not more than 3 years old, was sitting on the floor. She had every book and magazine from the reading table on the floor and when I came in she acted as though she was afraid of me. I talked and talked to her, but she made little response. Knowing that children are usually very proud of their teeth, I asked her to let me see how many she had but clapping her little hand over her mouth, she said "Oh, I haven't brushed my teeth today."

HASTE MAKES WASTE

The driver of a grocery motor truck was in such a hurry in turning the corner of College Ave. and State St. Friday that a jug of vinegar he was delivering was thrown half way across the avenue. Instead of stopping to pick up the fragments he continued on, endangering the tires of automobiles that passed that way. The fragments were picked up by considerate competitors before any damage was reported.

DEATH HALTS PLANS FOR GOLDEN JUBILEE

and Mrs. Bretzman Plan Celebration Then Their Younger Dies

The death of Mrs. Harry Bretzman, 720 Main-st., who died last Monday night, has interfered with the plans of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Bretzman, 720 Main-st., who were to have celebrated their golden jubilee at the home of their daughter, Mrs. John Cockayne, 731 Main-st., on Monday night.

Mr. Bretzman passed his eighty-third birthday last Monday night. Mrs. Bretzman is approaching the age of 74 years. Plans had been made for a celebration of the golden wedding, but the festivities were halted when Mrs. Givens died, bringing sorrow into the household.

The elderly man is a familiar figure on Appleton streets since for years past he has been in the city white wing employ. In spite of his many years, he still handles the brush quite briskly. Mrs. Bretzman, though not so active, apparently is in good health.

WED IN GERMANY

The couple was married in Germany on Sept. 29, 1872. With their four children they emigrated in 1885 to America and made their home for three years in Cincinnati. Shortly after their arrival in Appleton in 1888, they settled at 720 Main-st. and have lived there ever since. Two daughters, Mrs. John Cockayne, Appleton, and Mrs. William Nabefeldt, are living. A son, Fred, is dead and another son, Ernest, is believed to be dead, since he has not been heard from for 10 years. Two brothers of Mrs. Bretzman, Henry and John Nehls, who immigrated near the same time, are making their home with the couple.

MAY FORM LEGION ATHLETIC LEGION

Oney Johnston president of the American Legion probably will take an active part in the athletic life of the city this winter if plans to be proposed at the monthly meeting Monday evening in Elk hall materialize.

The athletic committee has been considering teams of several kinds and will offer its suggestions at the meeting. It is possible that a football or basketball team may take the field, or a legion bowling league may be organized.

Entertainment of the quality characteristic of legion meetings is to be furnished by the amusement committee, officers say.

Carelessness Blamed For Great Majority Of Fires

Chief McGillan Offers Suggestions For Removing Fire Hazards

With only two days remaining before the twelfth annual nationwide campaign against preventable fires, Chief G. P. McGillan said Saturday that all was in readiness for an extensive Fire Prevention week observance.

"It is high time," he said, "that we awake to what a yearly fire waste of 15,000 lives and close to a half billion dollars in property, if long continued, will mean to this country. Headlessness and carelessness are made clearly at the bottom of all but a small fraction of the loss, which is that it is needless and inexcusable."

He went on the chief, "that the levy of power were allowed to year: on us of $500,000,000 a up from howl of protest would go with scarcely real American. Yet, a sum just murmur, we surrender the common: of this amount to months. To may of fire every 12 the face of life in complacency in un unparalleled property destruction, is one of the where in the sible characteristics, of comprehension."

HERE ARE A FEW

Asked if there were hints of fire prevention code of fame brief would like to lay before the chief of Appleton on the eve of Fireleg of tion week, the chief thought foremen and then dictated these: "Don't use makeshifts instead proper fuses in your electrical cuts; the fuse is the safety valve of the system."

Don't leave electric flatirons or other heating devices turned on while attending to something else.

Don't look for a gas leak with an open flame light; you will be sure to find it. Use an electric flash light.

Don't use gasoline or other volatile liquids to remove spots from clothing or for other purposes.

Don't throw your lighted matches or smoking material where they can possibly cause fire.

Don't smoke in bed; perhaps those guilty of this practice are too green to burn, but the beds are not.

Don't let children play with matches or bonfires.

Don't fail to have your defective chimneys and flues mended.

Don't forget to have the soot removed from your smoke pipe; if not cleaned, the pipe may overheat and start a fire when you operate the furnace.

Don't neglect to protect walls, ceilings and partitions from the overheating of stoves, furnaces and pipes.

Don't put hot ashes into wooden boxes or barrels.

Don't fill oil lamps or stoves by open flame light.

Don't let rubbish accumulate.

Don't fail to keep a bucket of water and a bucket of sand in a convenient place for use in case of fire; they may save the lives of your family as they have those of others.

"If people would only make these 14 points permanent rules of conduct," concluded the chief, reflectively, "the power of the fire tyrant would be broken."

'Y' TO OBSERVE WEEK OF PRAYER

Appleton Y. M. C. A. will join with all other association in the country in the call to a week of prayer for young men, to be held from Nov. 12 to 18.

Dr. John R. Mott, international secretary, has issued an appeal to all Y. M. C. A. members to concentrate their thoughts for one week on the spiritual side of their lives, and to develop a greater spirit of consecration through the holding of devotional meetings.

Pamphlets containing daily meditations for the week and written by Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick will be obtained for use here in the meetings which will be arranged.

Full plans for local participation will be announced later by George F. Berner, general secretary.

FARM WAGES HIGH IN FALL END OF SUMMER

Wages scales for farm labor in Wisconsin are high for the fall, August and September men July, August age of $55 and are rising an average February and March, $1 in January, age $35 a month.

This was discovered by H. C. Taylor of a survey made by the Wisconsin agricultural experiment station at the University of Wisconsin.

The scale is maintained in order to make the hired man stick to his job the year around. Wisconsin farms for the most part have abandoned the old plan of "holding back" a part of the farm hand's wages to hold his interest and are paying the varying wage scale instead, the survey showed.

Comparatively few farmers hire help under a written contract.

MAY HAVE PART IN RELIGIOUS MERGER

Rabehl And Saiberlich Leave Monday For Evangelical Meeting in Detroit

The Rev. C. F. Rabehl, superintendent of Appleton district of the Evangelical association, and Frank Saiberlich, lay delegate of Emanuel Evangelical church, will leave Monday for Detroit, Mich., to attend the general conference of the Evangelical association.

It is possible that a merger of two large church bodies of the United States will occur at that time, the Evangelical association and the United Evangelical church.

The latter organization is to meet at Barrington, Ill. and close up its affairs, and the delegates then will go to Detroit to complete the merger unless opposition arises. Both bodies have paved the way for the union by a two-thirds vote of the churches sanctioning the move.

The Detroit meeting opens Oct. 5 and may continue for several weeks.

Mrs. George Wittmann, Route 7 has left on an auto trip to Stevens Point and Wisconsin Rapids.

CHRISTIAN LIFE TAUGHT IN CLASSES

Opportunity to broaden christian training will be given members of the First Congregational church in classes which are to be conducted every Thursday evening throughout the season. Courses in progressive christianity will be conducted by the pastors, Dr. H. E. Peabody, and the Rev. C. W. Cross.

Suppers will be held at 6:30 each Thursday evening for the next few weeks until the classes are established. A 20-minute devotional period will be held from 7:30 to 7:50.

Two classes then will be held simultaneously. Members may choose the course they prefer. Dr. Peabody will teach "The Art of Worship," including public prayer, family prayer and private devotions. The Rev. Mr. Cross will conduct the course, "The Modern Church at Work." The training is especially for young people and will take up criticisms, the real task of the church, young people's activities and a program of worship, instruction and service.

Meetings are to adjourn at 8:30.

Make your windows beautiful with long-wearing Brenlin

Beautiful windows make beautiful homes. Give your own home a new charm—the charm that lingers in the glow of lovely windows.

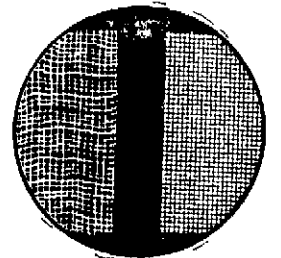

You can do it simply, easily and inexpensively with Brenlin.

Brenlin is made in numerous beautiful colors. We have the color that will harmonize with your own home. If you wish, we can supply you with Brenlin Duplex—a different color on each side.

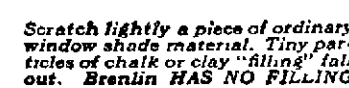

You will find that the rich beauty of Brenlin is lasting beauty. The colors—of highest grade—are applied by hand. They resist fading by the sun and will not show water spots.

Brenlin will wear two or three times as long as an ordinary window shade. It is made without a particle of the chalk or clay "filling" that crumbles and falls out, leaving cracks and pinholes in ordinary shades. The tight, strong, closely woven fabric of Brenlin needs no "filling".

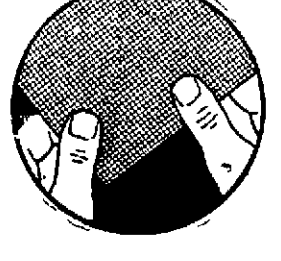

Come in and let us show you the many rich colorings of Brenlin. Let us show you how little it will cost to shade your windows, and help you choose the color for perfect harmony in your home.

On the left, the material in an ordinary window shade; right, the fine, closely woven material in Brenlin

Scratch lightly a piece of ordinary window shade material. Tiny particles of chalk or clay "filling" fall out. Brenlin HAS NO FILLING

Every foot of Brenlin is carefully finished and colored by hand for beauty of appearance, long wear, and smooth operation

BELLEVUE ICE CREAM

BELLEVUE ICE CREAM

Where a Few Pennies Bring More Joy Than Great Riches

There isn't one of us who does not occasionally remember the time when he or she thought more of a dish of ice cream, or an ice cream cone, than of an expensive present. And there are not many of us who do not often sigh for these times to return.

BELLEVUE ICE CREAM

brings back those memories. It tastes so awfully good that we find ourselves liking it as well as we used to like it in years gone by. It makes kiddies of us again—resurrects that "sweet tooth" we thought we had lost.
